History

The Royal Dames of Cancer Research was founded in April, 1969, when the Cancer Research Laboratory, first known as the Genetic Life Center, moved to Fort Lauderdale. Each member was dedicated to the endowment of cancer research.

In May of 1972, because of a contribution by Leo Goodwin, Jr., the cancer research laboratory was renamed the Goodwin Institute for Cancer Research, in memory of the senior Mr. Goodwin.

In 2000, the name of the Institute was changed to Rumbaugh-Goodwin Institute for Cancer Research (RGI) to reflect a generous gift from Joseph (Joe) Rumbaugh.

In 2005, the Institute became part of Nova Southeastern University.

The Royal Dames of Cancer Research has raised millions of dollars to support the research and educational programs at RGI. Funds have financed laboratory equipment, library books, journals and vital research materials.

We gratefully acknowledge the generosity of our sponsors

Message from Tiara Ball Chair

Dear Royal Dames, Supporters, Guests and Friends:

The Royal Dames Tiara Ball Committee is tickled pink to welcome you to our signature event. We're tickled pink to raise money for cancer research - and we're tickled pink to be honoring Sharon Gustafson Florescue. who has been a great supporter and longtime member of the Royal Dames.

As this year's Tiara Ball Chair, I am especially honored to have Sharon as the honoree. She is not only a dear friend and avid supporter of the Royal Dames, she is a leader whose generosity and advocacy has touched countless areas of our community.

This year, the Royal Dames are celebrating 49 years of dedicating their activities to supporting cancer research and education. And tonight all of you are a part of it. We thank you for your generous participation in helping to make this year's Tiara Ball a meaningful and prosperous evening for the benefit of cancer research.

Thank you to all of our sponsors who have been so generous with their donations for cancer research and to Pier Sixty-Six, which has always been so generous in their support.

A lot of hands went into creating this evening. Our committee chairs and their members contributed their time and talents - and even had fun along the way. Special thanks to all of our committee chairs and the committee members and of course to our president, Carole Nugent, who was the prime motivator and inspiration to everyone on the committee.

Everyone in this room has been touched in some way by this horrible disease — they know someone who now has or has had cancer, had cancer themselves or lost a relative or friend to cancer. Great strides are being made to find a cure. The Royal Dames are proud to further the research efforts at Nova Southeastern University's Rumbaugh-Goodwin Institute by donating over $3 million to help fund their cutting-edge breakthroughs.

We are tickled pink you are all enjoying the evening and supporting the Royal Dames' efforts and hope your support will continue during the year. Our fundamental belief: Man is not destined to die of cancer. Please help us make cancer a disease of the past.

Enjoy the evening,

Anita Kotler

Message from the President

Dear Royal Dames, Sponsors and Guests:

There is no holy grail for cancer. No single cure that will rid mankind of this scurrilous disease. The reason is simple—there are over 100 forms of cancer. Now multipy that by the 200 different types of cells in our bodies, and the 20 different types of structures within those cells and you begin to understand the herculean obstacles facing a cancer researcher.

The quest for cures is a tedious task-- a constant battle of trial and error, of anticipation and disappointment and hopefully triumph. Tonight we celebrate the tenacity of the research team at Rumbaugh-Goodwin Institute led by Dr. Appu Rathinavelu.

Each year they come closer to unlocking the secrets of cancer. Since the Dames began 49 years ago, we have seen many types of cancer "cured." With the ground-breaking research going on at RGI, we hope to see many more.

This year we are honoring our Diamond Sponsor, Sharon Gustafson Florescue, who has been a Royal Dame for over 28 years, and one of our most generous supporters. Not long ago, cancer touched her life and changed it forever. So this ball is a very poignant one for her.

For our incredible Chairperson, Anita Kotler, who is living proof that you can have both brains and beauty, this ball has been a labor of love. While holding down a high- powered job, she has worked tirelessly with her fabulous committee to make this evening a memorable one for all of us. She has been greatly helped by our Platinum Sponsors Lorraine Thomas and Nova Southeastern University, our Gold Sponsor Carol Kalagher, our Silver Sponsor Ken Meares, our Bronze Sponsors, Auto Nation, Raquel Cohen, Wells Fargo and our too numberous-to-name Copper Sponsors. Then there is one person that we all owe a debt of gratitude to this evening for her decdication and determination and that is Bonnie Barnett. Her amazing ability to bring in sponsorships is truly awe-inspiring. It has been a pleasure to work with her.

While the Tiara Ball is the highlight of our fundraisers, we also had our nautical Spring Luncheon aboard a Celebrity Cruises ship chaired by Bonnie Mitten and Shirley Cornish and our fantastic, fairy- tale Fall Luncheon chaired by Nancy Westin and Shannon Brown. Both greatly contributed to our cause this year.

It is also wonderful to have the sage advice of past presidents, like Rhonda Ritchie and Joey Stotsky. Their support and guidance is truly invaluable. The best part of being president is getting to know so many wonderful, talented and dedicated women.

Tonight we pause briefly to bask in the rosy glow of our accomplishments. But our focus is firmly on the future and creating a world that is cancer free.

Warmest regards to all of you,

Carole Nugent

Sharon Gustafson Florescue

Honoree

Sharon Gustafson Florescue

Sharon was born and raised in Burlingame, California. (17 miles South of San Francisco) Being an only child, she about broke her mother's heart when after graduating from college in 1970, she got married and moved to Miami Beach, Florida. She has three beautiful children and two darling grandchildren, whom she absolutely loves and adores.

Her charitable career began in 1970 when she was instrumental in starting a Miami Beach organization called " Charity Mrs." She moved to Fort Lauderdale in 1986 when her son was born and immediately became involved with the following charities: Cystic Fibrosis Gold Coast Guild where she chaired the "Elegance and Emerald Ball". In 1994 she became President of Henderson Mental Health Auxiliary and was selected as their " Woman of the Year" for the 1,000+ Club American Cancer Society. In 2005, she was chosen as a " Lady of Style and Substance" by the Symphony of the Americas. She was selected by Healthy Mothers, Healthy Babies as " Mother of the Year" in 2006. She also belongs to Pinion and the Sheriffs Auxiliary Council.

She has been active in the Royal Dames of Cancer Research for 28 years. She chaired the "White Ball" to White Out Cancer with her daughters Susan and Shannon in 2010. She has a wonderful memory of her late husband Barry Florescue surprising her with big bouquets of white roses. He was a very generous man and always surprising Sharon with something. She has also given many underwriting parties at her home on Hillsboro Mile and loves the Royal Dames luncheons and fun events which raise money for research to help find a cure for cancer.

Her late husband, Barry Florescue, who was an astute businessman, started the Florescue Family Foundation of which she is now president. He built the Barry Florescue Undergraduate Business School at his alma mater, University of Rochester, of which he was so proud. He was one of the school's most avid supporters. Sharon and Barry supported The American Friends of Magen David Adom by sponsoring 2 ambulances which were built here and then sent over to Israel to help save lives. Sharon and Barry also support many other charities in Florida. Their favorites are Royal Dames of Cancer Research, The Boys and Girls Club, The Diabetes Research Institute, and Junior Achievement of which Sharon and her daughters are chairing the "Uncorked" Event on January 19, 2019. Please join us!

Sharon is so thrilled (actually Tickled Pink) to be your "honoree" and will continue working diligently to make the world a better place and hopefully find a cure for cancer.

Thank you for all of your love and support!

Congratulations

Congratulations to the Royal Dames for another successful Tiara Ball. It is a true pleasure and honor to be part of the Nova Southeastern University Rumbaugh-Goodwin Institute for Cancer Research (RGI) for 25 years and work with its scientists, staff members, students, and supporters to continue my research toward advancing scientific knowledge in the area of cancer. For the past 25 years, my research team and I have been striving to discover new therapeutics and diagnostic methods for curing cancer. In this regard, we are conducting research and making steady progress toward new findings to help the scientific world fight this dreadful disease. We have received six patents for our JFD and F16 drugs. We are excited about this achievement because it symbolizes the recognition of the clinical importance of our research in many parts of the world. When conducting such cutting-edge research, we utilize all forms of talent and efforts, including the curious minds of our undergraduate and graduate students.

We sincerely thank the Royal Dames of Cancer Research with an immense sense of gratitude for all their generosity. The support from the Royal Dames is one of the most important driving forces in our efforts to continue the battle against cancer. My team at RGI believes, as our donors do, that "Man is not destined to die of cancer." Our battle against cancer will continue to be multidimensional and remain focused on discovering and utilizing every therapeutic weapon that could be available to mankind (including immunotherapeutics, new biologics, and drug combinations of new and existing drugs with plant-based phytonutrients and algae-derived phycocyanins found in the Everglades of Florida). We will develop a better understanding of how we can harness these new therapies and take them to the patients bedside soon. In our home at NSU's Center for Collaborative Research, we are trying to reach new heights of accomplishments.

Dear Distinguished Guests,

Welcome to the 49th Annual Tiara Ball.

Since 1969, the Royal Dames of Cancer Research have been committed to raising funds for research to treat, cure, and prevent cancer. The Royal Dames have accepted this tremendous challenge and each member has dedicated herself to helping to eradicate cancer.

We congratulate tonight's honoree, Sharon Gustafson Florescue, for her hard work and dedication to the mission of the Royal Dames. Over the years, she and her late husband, Barry Florescue, have been ardent supporters of the Royal Dames. She has served as Tiara Ball Chair, has hosted events in her lovely home, chaired special activities, and the list continues. We thank her for all that she has done. Tonight's recognition is truly well deserved.

The proceeds from tonight's Tiara Ball will directly benefit the Rumbaugh-Goodwin Institute (RGI) at Nova Southeastern University. Your attendance illustrates your belief in NSU and the work our researchers and staff members are undertaking to cure cancer.

Through the years, the Royal Dames have raised more than $3 million for the university. These funds have been instrumental in the development of new cancer therapies, such as combining chemotherapeutic agents with dietary supplements, among other discoveries.

Astronaut Neil Armstrong once said, "Research is creating new knowledge." The new knowledge generated by NSU's researchers in the RGI labs and the resulting discoveries are a direct result of philanthropic giving, and the dedication of the Royal Dames who live by their motto, "Man is not destined to die of cancer."

Thank you!

Sincerely yours,

George L. Hanbury II, Ph.D.
